

The Conversationally Intelligent Leader

An Ibis Coaching Workshop

Great organizations know that leaders model an organization's culture. Leaders create an environment of trust that supports high levels of engaged, motivated and happy employees.

Management consultant Judith Glaser, author of Conversational Intelligence® stated, “To get to the next level of greatness depends on the quality of the culture, which depends on the quality of the relationships, which depends on the quality of the conversations. Everything happens through conversations.”

Leveraging Conversational Intelligence® strategies through instruction, group discussion and interactive exercises specific to leadership situations, workshop participants will explore:

The Importance of Trust

The Neuroscience of Conversation

Factors Influencing Conversations

Regulating Conversational Responses in the Moment

Listening to Connect and Discover

Ibis Coaching's principals are among an elite group of coaches across the globe who are certified in the Conversational Intelligence body of work.

Note: This workshop is designed as an in-person, two and one-half hour experience, but can be tailored and customized to your organization's unique needs and desired outcomes. For more information, contact Ibis Coaching's principal, Lillian LeBlanc, PCC, SPHR:
